William's Grant Inn Bed & Breakfast (Bristol, RI) | www.williamsgrantinn.com

The William's Grant Inn is a beautiful five-bay Colonial Federal style home with seven fireplaces built in 1808. William Bradford III, grandson of Deputy Governor William Bradford, built the home as a residence. The Inn remained in the Bradford family for 150 years through several generations. It became a bed and breakfast in 1993. The Inn is conveniently located on tree lined High Street in beautiful Bristol, RI within walking distance of downtown Bristol that boasts fine restaurants, museums, and local shops.

The Inn at Mount Hope Farm (Bristol, RI) | www.mounthopefarm.org

The Inn at Mt Hope Farm is nestled away from the road surrounded by perennial gardens, stone walls, and historic charm. Mount Hope Farm welcomes you to one of Rhode Island's great country estates. Mount Hope Farm is a 127-acre national historic site located in Bristol, RI overlooking Mount Hope Bay. What became Mount Hope Farm was the summer camp of the Pokanoket Tribe of the Wampanoags and has a long history as a residence for notable New Englanders. The Inn at Mount Hope Farm is pleased to be listed as Yankee Magazine's Best Historic Farm S
